

I like smiles

Smiles can be the difference between sadness and contentment

Smiles can make new friends where there were none

Smiles can display compassion that displaces resentment

Smiles can change what was two, to now be one

Smiles can change a rainy day into a beautiful rainbow

Smiles can make a stranger smile back regardless of their day

Smiles can make a little baby's smile light up with aglow.

Smiles can present itself as a bountiful beautiful bouquet

Smiles can be instruments for an anger to forego

Smiles can be the means for a friend to stay

Smiles are part of little pieces that make one whole

Smiles are gifts from God that reside in one's soul.

by

Robert G. Borelli