

Reporter:

Hello! Are you Alice Leshner?

Alice:

I am! And who are you?

Reporter:

My name is Scoop DaNews I work for the P.S. Nautical News.

Alice:

Gee I used to work for the B.S. nautical news. Is Boarman still your editor?

Reporter:

Yes he is, and that's the P.S Nautical News.

Alice:

Whatever! How is Mr. Boarman?

Reporter:

Knock on plastic, Woody's doing great.

Alice:

Boy, I miss working for the B.S. Nautical News, what's your readership these days?

Reporter:

Again, that's The P.S Nautical News and our readership? 25

Alice:

25? Really! When I was there we had a circulation of around 350

Reporter:

Circulation is 445, only 25 read the thing.

Alice:

It must be the small print. How can I help you Soup?

Reporter:

That's Scoop! I understand you're a long time friend of Janet Lee. I'm here to do a feature for the PS Nautical News on her.

Alice:

Janet Lee, the Hollywood Actress? She ain't around anymore.

Reporter:

No, Janet Lee the incoming Commander of the Vero Beach Power Squadron.

Alice:

Her name is Janet Leh. Leh like "let sleeping dogs lay".

Reporter:

Lie

Alice:

I'm not lying, you idiot, the woman's name is Leh.

Reporter:

I mean the saying, is let sleeping dogs lie.

Alice:

I don't care if the stupid dog Lies, Lays, or Poops on your ugly shoes. The woman's name is still Leh. Got it Droop?

Reporter:

Again that's Scoop and Leh it is.

Alice:

OK! Now what do you want to know about Janet Leh?

Reporter:

I understand you are a long time friend of hers

Alice:

Yea, so what!

Reporter:

How would you characterize long, 10 maybe 15 years?

Alice:

You can say that

Reporter:

So how many years have you known Janet?

Alice:

Two and,

Reporter:

2 years?

Alice:

2 Long years! And

Reporter:

2 long years?

Alice:

Yeah, And

Reporter:

And What!

Alice:

One half.

Reporter:

O.K.! So how did you meet Janet?

Alice:

Well it was at one of the social events at the Power Squadron. There Janet was chastising her husband Harold for something stupid he did. And I was doing the same to my 3rd husband, Andy, Randy, Sandy, something like that.

Reporter:

You don't know your husband's name?

Alice:

It doesn't matter what their name is, as long as the alimony checks don't bounce, who cares.

Reporter:

Can we get back to how you met Janet?

Alice:

Right! So there we were telling our significant others where to get off and I suddenly realized, here is a woman that I could bond with.

Reporter:

Bond with?

Alice:

Yea, don't males bond with each other when they have something in common?

Reporter:

I don't think they bond like that.

Alice:

This is not your Grandmother's time. What do you think we bond over washing stupid dishes? Get over it. This is the 21st century Women are running things now.

Reporter:

Not my sweet grandma. She still cooks special dishes for me.

Alice:

And I'm sure she wipes your nose as well.

Today's woman scratch, claw, and push anyone out of the way to get to the top. And once there, they growl" I am here! I belong here! I am a Tigress! Got that Snoop

Reporter:

Again, it's Scoop! Sooo Janet is a Tigress?

Alice:

No actually I was talking about myself. Janet is a Pussy Cat.

Reporter:

I lost some of my notes but I remember somewhere I read that Janet with her husband own Lots a Boxes. What does she do with Lots a Boxes?

Alice:

Oh, she does a ton of things.

Reporter:

Example?

Alice:

She sleeps on Lots a Boxes, Her and Harold entertain on Lots a Boxes. They once invited me to dine on Lots a Boxes. They think so highly about Lots a Boxes, they have their Asian Spiritual Advisor bless Lots a Boxes every month.

Reporter:

Who is their Spiritual Advisor?

Alice:

No! Who is not their spiritual advisor His brother What is.

Reporter:

What is what?

Alice:

What is the name of their spiritual advisor.

Reporter:

That's what I'm trying to find out. Let's try this. Janet wants to have her Lots a Boxes blessed. She calls who.

Alice:

If she wants Lots a Boxes blessed she should not call Who. She should call What.

Reporter:

This is sooooo confusing. I really don't care about Who, What, or Whatever

Alice:

Whatever is their sister.

Reporter:

Who's sister

Alice:

Right! You sure you don't work for the Numbskull Gazette? Maybe you want I should take a camera over there some time to show you What, blessing Lots a Boxes

Reporter:

Why would I want pictures of what, who, or whatever blessing Lots of cardboard boxes?

Alice:

Hello! Lots a Boxes is a boat; you know, something that floats on water not something that is dead in the water like your brain. I can tell this interview ain't going anywhere. Is Fuzzy, I mean Woody available to do this interview?

Reporter:

No! He's been barred by Karen from having any contact with you. Can we continue?

Alice:

I understand. It's a curse. OK! I guess we should continue.

Reporter:

Can you tell me some other interesting things about Janet?

Alice:

Janet loves to buy shoes. It really bugs Harold. After all he is a typical man that does not appreciate a great thinking woman. I'll let you in on Janet's latest secret project.

Reporter:

Does it involve shoes?

Alice:

No, goat cheese, you idiot, what are we talking about? Of course shoes. Janet has a passion for this project and follows it religiously. Are you familiar with an organization called S.F.M?

Reporter:

Indeed I am. I went to Catholic Schools. S.F.M. Sisters For Mercy. Sooo, Janet is collecting shoes for the poor. Is she also leaving Harold and becoming a Nun?

Alice:

No she aint' but those Nuns, boy they must have given you one too many whacks to the head. You brain dead nitwit, S.F.M. stands for Shoes Futures Market not Sisters For Mercy. Being the whacked out nutcase that you are, I'm sure you haven't noticed that 90 percent of the world's population wears shoes.

Reporter:

Yes, I did notice that. At the last social, even the sail boaters were wearing shoes.

Alice:

My point exactly, now, Janet, being the financial genius she is, knows that sooner or later the world will be running out of shoes. What Harold doesn't understand is, by Janet buying all those shoes she is putting herself in a position to capture the Global Shoe Market

Reporter:

Would that be the G.S.M?

Alice:

Good boy, there may be hope for you yet. Soooo when the shoes shortage comes, Janet will start dumping her shoes at extremely high prices and Voila she makes a fortune. See woman do play in the big leagues!

Reporter:

Sounds like a winner. Can I get into her Shoes Futures Market?

Alice:

Not unless you can get into a size 6, pink, 4 inch, high heel.

Reporter:

Anything else you can tell me about Janet?

Alice:

Don't know! Read me your notes.

Reporter:

That's not, journalisticly speaking, very ethical.

Alice:

Look Mr. Poop! Read me your notes or I'll tie your journalisticly speaking fat neck to an anchor and dump you into the Indian River Lagoon.

Reporter:

Again, that's Mr. Scoop and your point, well made.

My Notes:

Interview with Alice Lesher friend of:

Alice:

Long time friend.

Reporter:

Long time friend of Janet Leh. In the interview, Alice stated that Janet is one of the nicest, warmest, persons you ever want to meet and will make a great Commander of the Vero Beach Power Squadron. In Alice's words, "Janet has served the power squadron in every major position and has done so with competence, grace, commitment, and hard work. On numerous occasions Janet and her husband Harold have opened their home to many events. Most notably of these events are the Women's Luncheons. Whether it be her duties as Administrative Officer or Executive Officer, and now as Commander, Janet's approach to every position was and will be what is in the best interest of the Squadron, I know many women have served as commander, my dear Sister as the first. I must tell you that Janet's term at the helm of the Squadron will be a compass point of distinction and will raise the bar for every future female commander that shall follow her". Alice, is there anything you would like to add?
